Christian Friendship Bracelet

Friendship bracelets are easy to make and could look great on your wrist for ages. For traditional friendship bracelets, you tie a bracelet to your friend's wrist and they leave it there until it falls off by itself.

Materials

- Four or five different colors of embroidery thread makes a really skinny bracelet. 8-10 strings works better. Try using two of each color.
- Scissors to cut the string.
- Tape - It'll hold the string down as you go and make it much easier to work on the string.

Procedure

1. Take the first color and wrap it around your wrist 3 times. Cut a piece this length from each of the other colors. Tape at the top of the knot to the edge of a table to keep it in place.

2. Tie a knot at the top of the three pieces of embroidery thread.

3. Cross the far left string (red) over the string to the right (green) creating a shape like the numeral four.

4. Pull the first string through the "opening" in the four and then pull it up and tighten to make a knot. Repeat this step again on the same string.

5. Pull the first string over to the right and repeat the steps above, but using the next string in each case.

6. Work this way for all the strings to complete the first row of all the same color horizontally.

7. Start the next row using the string to the far left (green).

8. Repeat all the steps until you have the row finished.

9. Keep going until the bracelet is long enough to fit around your wrist comfortably. To make sure it fits well, try it on your wrist, there should be enough extra room that you can fit about 2 fingers in next to your wrist.

10. Tie the loose ends of your fitted bracelet with a knot, just like how you started the bracelet.

11. Tie the bracelet onto your wrist (or your friend's) at the right length with a knot, like the first part of tying a shoelace, but do it twice - this is a square knot. It helps if you can get someone to help you here, but it can be done alone.
